Drastic Building Rulings

Government Acts To Speed Homes For Veterans; Far-Reaching Order

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, March 26—(P)—The government, acting to speed construction of homes for veterans, today clamped drastic restrictions on building or repair of virtually all other structures.

The Civilian Production Administration issued a far-reaching order, effective at once, forbidding the start of any new commercial or industrial construction unless specifically authorized.

This applies to such things as stores, office buildings, roadhouses, theaters and factories.

The objective is to make more scarce building materials available for the 2,700,000 new homes the government is aiming at during the next two years.

The measure, announced by National Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt and CPA Administrator John D. Small, applies throughout the United States and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. It probably will be extended later to Alaska and Hawaii.

May Complete Structure

It permits completion of any

WASHINGTON, March 26—(P)—The administration renewed its fight today for subsidies to increase supplies of building materials.

Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt was called before a senate banking subcommittee to explain his subsidy plan which the house rejected even though President Truman termed it the "very heart" of his emergency housing program.

Wyatt proposed to the house that he be given a $600,000,000 fund and broad authority to spend it on such subsidies as he found would spur the output of building materials.

construction already begun, provided "any of the materials which are to be an integral part of the structure have been incorporated in it on the site" before today, and if work is being carried on at present.

The order does not apply to construction, repair, alteration or installation jobs on which the cost does not exceed these allowances:

1. Houses designed for five or fewer families, also farmhouses or other structures, such as a garage, on residential property—$400 a job.

2. Hotel, resort, apartment house or other residential building designed for occupancy by more than five families—$1,000 a job.

3. Commercial or service establishment, such as office, store, garage, theater, warehouse, radio station, gas service station—$1,000 a job.

4. Farm building excluding farmhouses—$1,000 a job.

5. Church, hospital, school, public building, charitable institution—$1,000 a job.

6. Factory, plant or other industrial structure used for manufacturing, processing or assembling; logging and lumber camp; pier structure for a commercial airport or carrier terminal; railway or street car building; research laboratory; pilot plant; motion picture set; utility structure, including telephone and telegraph; gas or petroleum refining or distribution, except service stations and garages—$15,000 a job.

7. Other structures—$200 a job.

No Subdivided Work

Under the order, no job which ordinarily would be done as a single piece of work may be subdivided for the purpose of coming within the cost allowances. However, a CPA official explained, there is no limit on the number of separate jobs which may be undertaken while the order is in effect.

Technically the order requires formal authorization before even homes for veterans can be built.

The National Housing Administration expects to give these homes the green light, however, under its emergency housing program for veterans.

Mrs. Truman On Her Way East

DENVER, March 26—(P)—Mrs. Bess Truman, wife of the President, was en route east by train today, after a vacation visit with relatives in Denver.

She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. David E. Wallace, and planned to make a stop at the family home in Independence, Mo., before continuing to Washington.

Weather Lures Many Voters in K. C. to Polls

Coalition-Reform Government Seeks Its Fourth Term

KANSAS CITY, March 26—(P)

—A combination of ideal voting weather and a bitterly contested campaign held promise of luring more than 100,000 Kansas Citizens to the polls today to decide the fate of a coalition-reform city government, seeking its fourth term in office.

A plethora of workers representing the two contesting parties—the incumbent Citizens ticket, topped by City Counselor William E. Kemp, and the Democratic ticket, headed by ex-Marine Corps major Robert K. Ryland—were rewarded by an unusually heavy early morning turnout of voters at most polling places throughout the city.

A check of precincts in all of the city's 16 wards at noon, six hours after the polls had opened, indicated approximately 48,500 ballots had been cast in the contest for city offices. This total represented an estimated 16,000 more votes than at the same hour in the 1944 election. In 1944 the total vote was slightly more than 75,000.

Many Democratic Voters

The Democratic party, seeking to regain control of the city hall for the first time since the 1940 ouster of the Pendergast machine, was cheered by long queues of voters waiting to vote in the traditionally Democratic north side districts. The Citizens ticket, banking heavily on south side voting, gained confidence from reports of heavier-than-usual balloting in that area.

The pre-election campaign, off to an almost dull start, rapidly increased tempo to reach a name-calling and charge and counter-charge stage on the eve of the vote.

Kemp reiterated throughout his campaign that the election was a single-issue affair of "honest, efficient government" versus "political spoilsmen," and Ryland consistently has denied citizens charges he is "machine-controlled," while contending the incumbent administration "drove industry out of town by high taxes and poor service."

Much Campaign Oratory

Both parties expended much oratory in an effort to snare the vote of returning war veterans. The Citizens' ticket featured six veterans, and the Democratic ticket four.

Another issue to be decided in today's election is a proposal calling for the addition of a three-mill school tax increase to finance salary increases for teachers. The proposal requires a two-thirds majority vote for approval.

Working on Factory Fund

Ben Robinson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Fund committee, stated today teams are making calls on Sedalia citizens today, hoping to increase the money needed for the Home Factory, which is to be located in Sedalia on North Park avenue.

Mr. Robinson stated there has been $42,500 subscribed, and an additional $17,500 is needed to reach the $60,000 which Sedalia must raise as its part toward the building.

The committee must have the money before the building can be started. Members ask anyone who can to give, and who has not done so, to call the Chamber of Commerce and someone will call on them.

New Eyes for Blind Baby

NEW YORK, March 26—(P)—A 14-month-old baby, blind from birth, now is seeing through 59-year-old eyes which were bequeathed to science by Miss Eve Tobey, when she died last September, a hospital spokesman said today.

Miss Tobey's eyes were removed and shipped to the eye institute of the Presbyterian hospital where an operation was performed to transfer the corneas to the eyes of the baby, then eight months old.

The spokesman said:

"The operation is considered successful. The baby can see, although it must return for observation for several more months before final judgment is made."

The name of the baby was not disclosed.

Miss Tobey's action was prompted by the suffering of a nephew who was the victim of an eye affliction for years.

In her will, the Stamford, Conn. woman said:

"When life leaves my body, I want to provide a happier life for someone living by donating my eyes to science."

Ward Meetings By Democrats

The Democratic city campaign ward meetings will be underway at Mark Twain school at 8 o'clock tonight at which time Frank Armstrong and Sam Harlan, will be the principal speakers. Following the meeting the Women's Democratic club will serve refreshments.

Wednesday night the Democratic meetings shift to the Third and Fourth wards, with meetings at the Central Business College for the third ward and Broadway school for the fourth ward. Frank Hayes will be the principal speaker. Sam Harlan, chairman of the speakers committee, will introduce the speakers.

Thursday night a Third ward meeting will be held at Whittier school, and a Fourth ward meeting to be held at Horace Mann school. Harry Cooney will be the speaker.

Friday night the ward meetings will be at Jefferson school for the Second ward and Washington school for a Third ward meeting. Speakers for these meetings will be announced later.

Leaders of Boy Scouts to Meet

KANSAS CITY, March 26—(P)—Election of officers and discussion of a three-year regional program are expected to feature a one-day regional committee meeting here tomorrow by Boy Scouts of America leaders from a six-state area.

Scout representatives from Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Colorado and Wyoming, the states comprising Scout region No. 8, are expected to attend the session.

Those scheduled to appear on the program include L. W. Baldwin, St. Louis, president of the Missouri Pacific railroad and regional scout chairman, and Col. H. D. McBride of St. Louis.

Ask More Money For Milk

Newton County Dairy Farmers on Strike; Picket Two Processing Plants

NEOSHO, Mo., March 26

—(P)—The Newton county dairy farmers' strike for higher milk prices failed after the first few hours today to check the flow of milk into the big Pet and Carnation milk plants here, nearly two-score large milk trucks of route haulers passing through picket lines to deliver milk to the plants.

Deliveries were made, however, under the eyes of police and under the protests, and some jeers, from leaders in the strike movement who had hoped to tie up the local processing industry on the opening day of the strike.

Expressing his displeasure over results, Jim Williams, head of the dairy farmers' organization which called the strike, told several contract haulers "You won't get through tomorrow," threatening to post road blocks outside Neosho.

Few Took Milk Home

Only a few truck drivers acceded to the pleas of the striking farmers to take their milk back home. Some 15 big route trucks, which pick up the milk at farms, went through the picket lines before noon at the Pet plant and four had gone through at the Carnation plant. Each carried 80 to 100 big cans of milk.

Williams had called upon the 2,000 to 2,500 Newton county dairy farmers to join in the strike and had asked for a big turnout at Neosho this morning. However, a disappointing crowd of only about 100 appeared. A larger crowd was anticipated for a mass meeting at the municipal auditorium in Neosho this afternoon.

Farmers Indignant

Approximately 500 farmers, many of them expressing indignation over failure of the strike to be generally effective this morning, attended a mass meeting this afternoon.

Williams, in an opening statement, sharply criticized Neosho Chief of Police Ford Ratliff and his force for "interference" at the Pet plant's gate, and challenged the chief's authority to order the striking farmers back from the entrance gate.

Declaring that his group will stop the flow of milk into the plants tomorrow "even if we have to dump it in the streets," Williams asked for "volunteers who will show up tomorrow in your work clothes" and an estimated 200 to 300 men stood up, and Williams asked them to appear tomorrow morning at the plants.

None of the officers on duty at the plants attended the meeting and there was no comment from them.

Carry Selective Service Card

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26—(P)—Even if you fought in the war and have a string of medals, FBI suggests, keep that selective service classification card in your pocket.

Clinton Stein, FBI special agent in charge here, noted a tendency of veterans to chuck their selective service cards aside.

But, he said, registration and classification cards still must be carried by men of the draft act, regardless of prior service. The FBI is holding men picked up without cards until their selective service boards are checked.

Both Sides Are Claiming Edge In UAW Race

Spirited Battle For Leadership Nears Showdown

By Max Hall

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 26—(P)—The spirited battle for the leadership of the CIO Auto Workers union—the nation's largest union—nears a showdown today with both sides claiming an edge in the contest.

The issue, however, will be settled tomorrow when 2,000 delegates vote on whether to keep R. J. Thomas as president or to replace him with Walter Reuther.

More fireworks were expected today on the convention floor, where yesterday's session was thrown into an uproar by a sudden but futile attempt on the part of the Reuther supporters to force a debate between the two candidates.

Attacked Leadership

Thomas issued a folder which made a further assault on Reuther's leadership of the General Motors strike. Thomas praised the "guts" of the strikers but said Reuther showed "unscrupulous irresponsibility." He said Reuther's wage demand on General Motors threw a "bombshell" into the whole CIO postwar strategy, which, he added, was to "apply the pressure" through steel rather than the auto industry.

Reuther, UAW vice-president, addressing a rally last night, replied that Thomas lacked courage because he refused a challenge to a debate with him.

Outlined Union Program

Reuther then accused his opponents of "mud-slinging and character assassination," said he didn't want to be president if he had to resort to such tactics, and devoted most of his speech to outlining a program for the union.

In so doing, he got in a resounding whack at AFL leaders, declaring that "I think some day we're going to free the AFL rank and file from those bureaucrats."

With both sides claiming the edge in the contest, Geo. F. Addes, influential secretary-treasurer, told a meeting of his faction last night to "go out and round up every single vote you can for Thomas. Get these delegates who are not already sold on Thomas and sell 'em, sell 'em, sell 'em!"

Threw Nephew Into Furnace

GARY, Ind., March 26—(P)—A charge of homicide was filed today in Lake county criminal court against Mrs. Secora Ramos, 25, who Police Captain Peter Billick said admitted throwing her six-month-old nephew into a furnace. The mother, Mrs. Carmen Mireles, pulled the baby from the flames, but he died ten minutes after arriving at a hospital.

Captain Billick said Mrs. Ramos admitted orally that she put the blanket-clad baby into a furnace in the mother's home, where she was visiting. He said she appeared alternately "glad and dejected" during the questioning.

The police captain said despondency following a doctor's diagnosis that she is unable to bear children was the "probable motive" for the act. He said she is separated from her husband.

Byrnes Objects to Russian Proposal On Iranian Appeal

News Briefs

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 26—(P)—Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, the United States' new ambassador to Russia, now en route to Moscow, told reporters here today he would tell Prime Minister Stalin that the American people wanted a reassurance of the Soviet Union's motives.

Arriving at Eschborn airport near Frankfurt Smith said that the strain in relations with Russia "definitely eased today" as a result of new developments in Iran.

He said he had no specific questions to take up with Stalin, but that he wanted "to make clear the change in the American attitude."

Smith said he would tell the Soviet leader that there was "a great amount of doubt as to just what Russia wants and what her motives are."

"The American people want to be reassured that the Russians are determined, as we are, to make the United Nations Organization a potent agency for world peace," he said. "There has to be a certain amount of give and take on both sides."

The Ambassador said he was not carrying any proposal for a new Big Three meeting.

MOSCOW, March 26—(P)—Red army troops continued to withdraw from Iran today according to an agreement with Premier Qavam, and Prime Minister Stalin asserted that the question of Soviet troops in that country has been settled.

KARAJ, Iran, March 26—(P)—The Russians are pulling out of this ancient caravan—northern gateway to the Iranian capital of Tehran—with as little fanfare as when they entered it almost five years ago.

Last night, even before the Soviet government announced that the evacuation of Red army troops had begun, the garrison began loading trucks and moving tanks. By midnight, 14 tanks—American-built Shermans and Russian mediums—were thundering through the village streets toward Kazvin and the north.

LONDON, March 26—(P)—Two members of Britain's Parliament undertook today a trip by plane to the middle east to make an unofficial inspection of Iran and to verify reports from Moscow and Tehran that Red army troops were withdrawing from that country.

The two—Brigadier A. H. Head, conservative, and Michael Foot, Labor party member and writer for the Daily Herald—will be gone for two or three weeks.

War Veteran Shot to Death

BLOOMFIELD, Mo., March 26—(P)—Alvin Ellsworth, 30, a war veteran, was shot to death on the streets in the business district of Bloomfield about 9 o'clock last night and a coroner's jury soon afterward named Jesse Jennings, deputy city marshal, as his slayer.

Jennings, about 50 years old, was placed in jail, after which R. Kip Briney, prosecuting attorney, said charges would be filed today. Witnesses before the coroner's jury testified the officer had been drinking.

Ellsworth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ellsworth, who live near here.

Money to Home And Hospital

HANNIBAL, Mo., March 26—(P)—The Shriners' hospital for crippled children and the Masonic home in St. Louis will receive over $100,000 each from the estate of Mrs. A. M. Nipper, which was appraised at $227,983 today.

According to terms of the will which was filed here March 12, the residue of the estate after $7,200 in specific bequests are taken care of will be divided equally between the hospital and the home. The bequest to the home sets up an endowment fund to be known as the Ainsworth M. Nipper memorial fund, income from which will be used for general purposes.

Mr. Nipper was superintendent of the Hannibal board of public works for many years. His widow died Feb. 27. The estate consists of stocks and bonds.

States Soviets Should Have Filed Statement of Agreement Reached

By John M. Hightower

NEW YORK, March 26—(P)—Overriding persistent Soviet efforts to block a hearing for Iran, the United Nations security council voted eight to two today to keep the Iranian complaint against Russia on its agenda for an immediate hearing.

The positive decision to put the Iranian case on the agenda came immediately after the council rejected, also by an 8 to 2 vote, a proposal by Russian ambassador Andrei Gromyko to eliminate the appeal from council consideration.

NEW YORK, March 26—

(P)—The Big Three split sharply in the United Nations Security Council today, with Russia trying to block a council inquiry into the Iranian situation and in early afternoon the peace-enforcement agency recessed without reaching a vote.

Secretary of State Byrnes, who led the fight for having the council go into the case on Iran's appeal against the presence of Red army troops in that country, served notice that he wanted to make a second speech this afternoon. At least two other speeches were in prospect.

The immediate issue was whether the council should accept Iran's appeal for a hearing and put the case on the agenda or reject it. At recess the British-American position apparently lacked only one vote of the necessary majority of seven.

Reports Agreement

The Soviet ambassador Andrei Gromyko said in a statement to the council today that Russia and Iran had made an agreement for the withdrawal of Red forces from Iran and this was Russia's report to the council on the situation. Byrnes and Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain wanted the agreement itself filed with the council.

Poland stood with Russia.

Cadogan and Byrnes insisted that both Russia and Iran should report on their agreement on the removal of Russian troops which Prime Minister Stalin officially disclosed to the world last night.

Gromyko said Byrnes' position seemed to be in contradiction to the charter which says that situations only endangering peace and security should come before the council.

Not Satisfied

"The conditions necessary for the inclusion of the subject on the agenda have not been satisfied," Gromyko said. It was his second speech to the council, his first having been a request for rejection of the Iranian appeal for council help.

His implication seemed to be that the Iranian situation does not endanger peace and security, for he declared that because of withdrawal of Red army troops, underway since last Sunday, the situation is no longer the same as it was when Iran appealed to the council 10 days ago.

In more or less opposition to the Soviet view, according to their statements, were Mexico, the Netherlands, Egypt and Australia in addition to the United States and Britain. At a minimum, all these favored giving Iranian ambassador Hussein Ala, who was sitting out the railing with the spectators, a chance to be heard.

Siding with Gromyko was Oscar Lange, one-time Chicago professor, who took on Polish citizenship and now represents his nation as ambassador at Washington.

Appeal Not Withdrawn

Gromyko said Byrnes and Cadogan had questioned whether his statement "was in accord with the facts." They had declared that they should have Iran's views and noted that Ala had not withdrawn his appeal, despite the announced withdrawal of Soviet forces. He suggested they find out whether Ala's views were those of his government.

"There is no reason for doubting the veracity of the Soviet government," Gromyko said, punching his words home in heavy accents.

As far as Anglo-American demands for a Russo-Iranian report are concerned, Gromyko said, his speech constituted a report from Russia.

"It seems that Mr. Byrnes and Sir Alexander are being more Iranian than the Iranians, who apparently are satisfied," Gromyko said.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, March 26—The tight veil of secrecy which surrounded the resignation of Herbert Lehman as director-general of UNRRA can now be lifted.

The excuse that the former New York governor resigned because of poor health was mere "diplomatic double-talk." Actually, Lehman resigned because he was disgusted with the deceit and fraud which surrounded the entire question of feeding a hungry world, plus Herbert Hoover. Hoover was the straw that broke Lehman's back.

More was involved than the fact that Hoover was given permission to make a food survey of territory which UNRRA had already carefully surveyed. Lehman was Franklin Roosevelt's close friend and Herbert Hoover's bitterest enemies.

On the day after Hoover's appointment was announced, Lehman recalled to friends the way Hoover used relief for political purposes after the last war, and he was convinced that Hoover would repeat the same errors in 1946.

Lehman was not even consulted regarding Hoover's appointment. The one Roosevelt cabinet member who was consulted, Henry Wallace, protested vigorously. But in the end, he went along as a "good soldier" under urging from President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

Even before the Hoover appointment. However, Lehman was on the verge of resigning. For months he had been warning that world famine was imminent. He had appealed for the continuation of rationing and charged at inner government conferences that the administration had wept crocodile tears for the rest of the world while ducking rationing because of political expediency.

Lehman's experts estimated that another 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons of food could be exported by rationing and that this amount would spell the difference between life and death for 10,000,000 people.

Another of Lehman's battles involved the combined food board composed of Canadian, British and American members, which has a virtual death grip on the assignment of food for export. Lehman felt that many of its decisions were frankly political, and that food was being used as a weapon to influence the politics of certain nations not friendly to England.

Finally, when he saw he had lost on all these fronts, Lehman, a gentleman and a loyal Democrat, politely cashed in his chips, refusing to issue a critical blast against the Truman administration.

During the heyday of the Roosevelt administration, Vice President Jack Garner gave a dinner for the late Will Rogers at which the cowboy humorist, commenting on a forthcoming international conference, said:

His chief battle was over the location of the international bank and the stabilization fund to be established under the Bretton Woods plan. The British wanted the bank and fund located in New York, but Secretary Vinson wanted them in Washington. When he

NEA Special Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—President Zoltan Tildy is the only ruler in the Soviet orbit not hand-picked by Stalin; he was elected by the people. Despite this slight irregularity in procedure, he now is a member in good standing of the viceroys' club.

While Tildy may not see eye to eye with the Soviet dictator on a good many points, he has resigned himself to loyal acceptance of the basic fact that Hungary, for a long time to come, will have to dance to Moscow's tune.

Tildy's appearance on the international scene has been truly meteoric. Six months ago he was totally unknown outside of his country. Suddenly he had won a national election. He became premier, then president. Beaten Hungary had a new strong man.

Zoltan Tildy is the most incongruous man in the Soviet setup. He is not only a landowner like Groza; not just a moderate conservative like Paasikivi; he's also a baron and a clergyman!

Studied Theology

He was born in 1899 at Losonc (Lusence), a medium-sized town in what now is Slovakia. This is one of the most hotly contested border regions in Central Europe. It belonged to Hungary before World War I, then was incorporated into the new republic of Czechoslovakia, was reannexed by the Magyars after Munich and is now again part of the Czechoslovak state.

Young Tildy, after attending a Hungarian Protestant school at Papa, went to North Ireland to study theology and history at the Belfast Presbyterian College. During this stay in Ireland, in 1913-14, he learned to like western life and thinking. After his return to his homeland, he became a Protestant minister and was for many years the head of Hungary's Calvinist Church.

In the agitated years following the end of the first World War Baron Tildy rallied to the Small Holders' Party, a moderately conservative group which was led for many years by Tibor Eckhardt.

He was elected to Parliament in 1936 and became one of the most influential leaders of his party, which he worked hard to liberalize.

In 1941 he succeeded Eckhardt as party boss and two years later he concluded a political alliance with the Social-Democrats. The two groups attempted vainly to stem the rising trend of Nazi influence in the country.

As a result of the complete occupation of Hungary by the Germans in March 1944, Tildy, like other anti-Nazi Hungarians, was forced to go underground. During the next few months he was one of the leaders of the Hungarian Independence Front which organized resistance against the German-controlled Budapest regime.

President Zoltan Tildy of Hungary... although he may not see eye to eye with Stalin on a good many points, he knows that Hungary must dance to Moscow's tune.

On October 15, 1944, Regent Horthy sued for an armistice. He was immediately deposed by Hitler and taken to Germany.

At the same time all Hungarian political leaders not previously imprisoned were taken into custody, with the exception of the completely Nazified "Arrow Cross" movement. Among the hundreds arrested and deported to German concentration camps was Baron Tildy.

His imprisonment did not last long, however. A few months later Germany surrendered and Tildy was set free.

He returned to his country, where an anti-Nazi government headed by General Bela Miklos had taken power. Although the new Cabinet comprised three members of the Small Holders' Party it is largely controlled by communists.

That is the inside reason why Byrnes himself is representing the United States at the current New York meeting. Instead of having a deputy to help Stettinius, "Stet" will be Byrnes' deputy.

Actually Byrnes would much prefer to remain in Washington and let some other capable diplomat carry on before the security council. However, because of the Ann wouldn't, and said so with emphasis.

THE Warren home was a pleasant, rambling place, of no particular period of design. The rooms were large and livable and lived-in, and even the piled-up furniture and workmen about couldn't disguise that fact. Joan was blissfully unapologetic for her house. She had told Ann the floors were being done over, and Ann still had wanted to come out, so she felt no apologies necessary. After putting the children to bed, they curled up in the window-seat in the master bedroom, overlooking the Sound, and lit cigarettes.

"How old are you, Joan?" Ann asked impulsively, then added, "I'm sorry, I didn't really mean to be impertinent."

"Dear child, I'm not ashamed of my age. Rather proud of it, in fact. I'm twenty-eight. I was graduated from the University when I was twenty-two. Stan and I had been married for six months then, and Alan was on the way, but I was determined to get my degree. To prove to myself and the world that I was a domestic science expert, you see. I've been proving it ever since."

"And I'm going on twenty-five myself. I'd better get going on a family, hadn't I?"
Joan studied her cigarette. "It's not a bad idea," she admitted.

WHEN Colin got home that night, Ann was radiant. "I've found a friend in town, Colin—I can call her that already, although I've only known her today."

"Who?"
"Joan Warren—AND her four bright and beautiful youngsters." "She has a bright and beautiful husband, too," Colin said. "I'm given to understand he is very valuable to the Drake Line. I'm glad you've found a friend, my darling—you haven't seemed to take much to local talent so far."

"She's real—and altogether admirable—and altogether swell. I'm so glad I've met her." She was so pleased with Joan, she quite forgot to tell Colin of her less pleasant meeting of the day.

Eckhardt Horthy

In the months following the re-establishment of peace in Europe, the country reacted sharply against Soviet occupation methods and the dictatorial behavior of the Miklos regime.

On November 4, a national election was held in Hungary. It resulted in a sweeping victory for the Small Holders, who captured 59 per cent of the votes and 61 per cent of the seats in Parliament.

Miklos immediately resigned, and Baron Tildy was called upon to form a new government. The Soviet authorities insisted that he include several communists in his Cabinet, among them the aggressive party chief, Matthias Rakosi, as vice-premier.

On February 1, 1946, the Hungarian Parliament abolished the Regency and, for the third time, proclaimed the Magyar state a republic. (The first two republics, in 1848 and 1918, were both of short duration.)

At the same time, the Assembly by acclamation elected Tildy president of the republic for a four-year term. Another member of his party, Ferenc Nagy, succeeded him as premier.

The powers of the president are limited, the new constitution being patterned on the French model. Tildy already has demonstrated, however, that he is not a figurehead and still runs the country.

Shortly before his election to the presidency, Tildy answered critics in the ranks of his own party who found him yielding too easily to pressure from the Left with this statement:

NEXT: The Two Titos.

"The Government is not being led by the Left but by me. Many of the radical measures it has taken, I initiated myself, though they have been attributed to others. When I became premier I knew I would have to take unpopular steps..."

One of the most unpopular of these was the ratification of the trade agreement with Russia which gave the latter a 50-50 interest in Hungary's economic life. The treaty was protested by the United States and Great Britain, but Russia insisted on its acceptance. It was ratified with minor alterations.

The outlook for Tildy's first year in office is anything but pleasant. His own forecast, made as early as last August, that Hungary's food situation this year would be "inhuman," is now being sadly fulfilled. There is widespread starvation in Budapest and other Magyar cities.

Minority in Slovakia
President Tildy is also deeply worried by the treatment of the Hungarian minority in Slovakia at the hands of the Czechoslovak authorities.

He recently revealed that his own sister and half-sister had been deported from their homeland in Kismaria, the contested border province now again under Czechoslovak rule.

Physically, Baron Tildy is unimpressive—small, swarthy, with a large, domed forehead and wavy black hair streaked with gray. He has the typical manners of a minister of the church. Despite his slight appearance, he is what the Hungarians call a "thick-necked Calvinist," a man who can be as stubborn as he is honest and austere.

When Tildy became premier last November, the United States had just recognized Hungary's provisional government. Since then diplomatic relations have been fully restored. The newly appointed Hungarian Consul General in Washington, Dr. Victor Chornoky, is President Tildy's son-in-law.

Next: The Two Titos.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED— DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by all drug stores here in Sedalia.

The Heart To Find

Copyright Macne-Smith Co. Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Ann has a run-in with Beulah Bedelle, self-styled social arbiter of Port Drake, on their first meeting. Beulah claims the first Mrs. Drake is her best friend. Ann later meets and makes friends with lovely Joan Warren and her four youngsters. Joan is amazed to learn that Ann is the new Mrs. Colin Drake.

XVI
ANN grinned at Joan. "You don't know Colin, do you?"
"Of course I know him," Joan said indignantly. "Stan is quite an important executive of the Drake Line. He's been after me to call on you, but you know the way it is—"

"Nor do I," Ann said. "Perhaps it's just as well if the lady I met this morning is the arbiter. Somehow, she didn't seem to respond to my fresh and girlish charm."

"Dear Beulah," Joan murmured. "No one likes her—but she's got 'em buffaloed. Or maybe Skippy likes her, though it seems incredible. He's a lamb, and everyone loves him—"

"Who is Skippy?"
"Her husband. It's short for Skipper—everyone called him that until Stan came along and changed it to Skippy, on account of he adored the Lawrenceville stories in the days of his youth. He's Stan's boss. Stan's my husband. But you were saying something about Beulah being social arbiter—Mrs. Colin Drake is that, whether she gives in for society or not, and don't let Beulah kid you."

"She told me that Colin's former wife is her most intimate friend," Ann said diffidently.

Joan snorted. "Don't you believe it. Beulah would have liked to have been, that's all. She's well—she doesn't believe in divorce, and has aired her views rather freely that you and Mr. Drake are—um, I guess I should remember the widely quoted say-my point—Of course she doesn't go on to say that Millicent is, too, but she never was noted for her logic."

"Dr. MacDougal doesn't think so—he married us," Ann said. "And somehow I value his opinion rather more than Mrs. Bedelle's."

Ann wouldn't, and said so with emphasis.

THE Warren home was a pleasant, rambling place, of no particular period of design. The rooms were large and livable and lived-in, and even the piled-up furniture and workmen about couldn't disguise that fact. Joan was blissfully unapologetic for her house. She had told Ann the floors were being done over, and Ann still had wanted to come out, so she felt no apologies necessary. After putting the children to bed, they curled up in the window-seat in the master bedroom, overlooking the Sound, and lit cigarettes.

"How old are you, Joan?" Ann asked impulsively, then added, "I'm sorry, I didn't really mean to be impertinent."

"Dear child, I'm not ashamed of my age. Rather proud of it, in fact. I'm twenty-eight. I was graduated from the University when I was twenty-two. Stan and I had been married for six months then, and Alan was on the way, but I was determined to get my degree. To prove to myself and the world that I was a domestic science expert, you see. I've been proving it ever since."

"And I'm going on twenty-five myself. I'd better get going on a family, hadn't I?"
Joan studied her cigarette. "It's not a bad idea," she admitted.

WHEN Colin got home that night, Ann was radiant. "I've found a friend in town, Colin—I can call her that already, although I've only known her today."

"Who?"
"Joan Warren—AND her four bright and beautiful youngsters." "She has a bright and beautiful husband, too," Colin said. "I'm given to understand he is very valuable to the Drake Line. I'm glad you've found a friend, my darling—you haven't seemed to take much to local talent so far."

"She's real—and altogether admirable—and altogether swell. I'm so glad I've met her." She was so pleased with Joan, she quite forgot to tell Colin of her less pleasant meeting of the day.

Senate Passes Bill On House Membership

JEFFERSON CITY, March 26.—(P)—A bill to increase the membership of the Missouri House of Representatives from 150 to 154, allocating the new members to metropolitan areas, was passed by the Senate today. It now returns to the House for concurrence in Senate changes.

Required by the 1945 constitution, the new alignment would give the city of St. Louis 18 instead of 19 members, St. Louis county 7 instead of 3, and Jackson county 11 instead of 10. Other county representation would not be affected.

Making Irons Again

ONTARIO, Calif., March 26.—(P)—General Electric irons rolled off the assembly line again today, as crews resumed work following a 10-week strike shutdown.

The plant since 1934 has produced all the company's electric irons, December production having reached 85,968.

Approval Over Red Protest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 26.—(P)—Over Russian opposition the United States won UNRRA's approval today of a mandate to prevent occupying armies from living off the land they have conquered.

The action came after United States Delegate C. Tyler Wood bluntly and openly protested that a Ukrainian-Russian move to side-track the argument because it had political implications would be "the course of cowardice."

Russian Delegate Nikolai Feonov, while arguing that the issue was outside UNRRA's authority and arguing vigorously for its exclusion from the agenda, did not vote. Neither did France.

Find Parts of Human Body

PARIS, March 26.—(P)—A French medical examiner testified today that hands, feet and limbs found in Dr. Marcel Petiot's home had been assembled to show they came from ten persons.

The prosecution witness, Dr. Albert Paul, said an additional 30 pounds of bone calcium indicated there had been many other victims. Petiot is charged with the slaying of more than a score of persons.

Paul testified: "The dismembering of the bodies was done by a skilled and unerring hand which found the same spot on each body to sever the spine and limbs. The scalp was then removed and a circular incision was made to lift off the entire facial mask. The longer parts were broken to fit into the furnace by wrenching them between the cellar door and its frame."

Asks for Writ Of Prohibition

JEFFERSON CITY, March 26.—(P)—John A. Davis, St. Louis Negro, today asked the Missouri supreme court for a writ of prohibition against the St. Louis board of election commissioners for their alleged discrimination against Negroes in a recent state senatorial redistricting.

Davis said the Negroes in the old senatorial districts had been "deprived of their group voting strength," and asked the court to force the suspension of the primary and general election of the senators until an "equitable" redistricting is obtained.

Old Age Bill To Governor

JEFFERSON CITY, March 26.—(P)—A bill providing $2,050,000 additional funds for old age assistance and $450,000 additional for aid to dependent children for the current fiscal year was passed by the house today and sent to the governor.

The total of $2,500,000 in supplementary money was requested by Social Security Director Proctor Carter because he told legislators, of the increased pension rolls and a legislative increase in the maximum amount that can now be granted.

As originally passed by the house the bill called for $400,000 for ADC but a senate amendment raised the amount by $50,000. House action today resulted in acceptance of the senate change. There was no opposition.

Japanese Were Taken in 1943

STOCKTON, Cal., March 26.—(P)—Between twelve and fifteen Japanese landed from a submarine on the northern California coast and were taken prisoner by a maneuvering army unit in November, 1943, Kenneth Hammaker, former western states director of the office of civilian defense, said last night.

Hammaker said that some elements of the western defense command were on maneuvers in Marin county, about 15 miles north of San Francisco, and that soldiers saw the Japanese come ashore about midnight. The soldiers, he said, took the Japanese prisoners without resistance.

Neither the federal bureau of investigation nor the western defense command had any comment.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—(P)—No hostile Japanese forces ever landed on the west coast of the United States, Sixth Army headquarters here announced officially today.

The announcement was in reply to a statement by Kenneth Hammaker, former western states director of the Office of Civilian Defense, that 12 or 15 Japanese landed on the northern California Coast from a submarine and were captured by a maneuvering army unit in November, 1943.

Tells Miners To Stay Home

WASHINGTON, March 26.—(P)—John L. Lewis today notified bituminous coal operators he will end their present contract this Sunday at midnight and 400,000 miners will "stay home with their families" next week.

Lewis, at a news conference, said "there will be no miners' blood spilled" next week and that lives will be saved and injuries averted.

The United Mine Workers' president said there will be no extension of the current contract, making it clear he will insist on a new agreement before the soft coal miners return to work.

Lewis said the action is being taken "at a time when it will be least inconvenient to the public." There are close to 47,000,000 tons of coal in storage, he added.

He estimated that for the last couple of weeks the weekly output has averaged 13,000,000 tons, a record for the industry.

Doctors' Wives Have Election

ST. LOUIS, March 26.—(P)—Penicillin and sulfa drugs now cure two-thirds to three-quarters of the cases of bacterial infections of the endocardium, the membrane lining the cavities of the heart, Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston told the Missouri State medical Association today.

In a discussion of the advances in treatment of heart diseases, Doctor White recalled that bacterial endocarditis was 99 per cent 10 years ago.

The two-day convention will close this afternoon with election of officers. Auxiliary officers installed were Mrs. W. E. Koppensbrink, Higginsville, president; Mrs. W. L. Allee, Eldon, president-elect; Mrs. Harrison Tripp, Kansas City, Mrs. John O'Connell, St. Louis, Mrs. Richard Crouch, Columbia, and Mrs. W. F. Oehler, Cape Girardeau, vice-presidents; Mrs. Russell Porter, North Kansas City, treasurer; and Mrs. J. I. Byrne, St. Joseph, auditor.

Divided Equally On Draft Measure

WASHINGTON, March 26.—(P)—The Senate military committee divided 8 to 8 today on the question whether to extend the draft for only six weeks or go ahead with a year's extension.

Two members were not recorded and the committee agreed to meet again late this afternoon to see whether the deadlock could be broken.

Accepts New Position

Miss Frances Ritchie, pianist and vocalist, daughter of Mrs. Vest Ritchie, 121½ East Third street, who has been entertaining since last December at the 99 Club at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., has accepted an engagement at The Duck, also at Ft. Lauderdale. She plans to remain in Florida until the first of June.

Marriage License Issued

John Dean Hayes, Frisco, and Viola Maxine Forth, Warsaw.

The Coast Guard's role in aviation, especially in war time, was vividly demonstrated in 1943 when it made 450 assistance flights, rescued 64 persons, located and directed rescue of over 500 victims of sea disasters, and transported 82 emergency cases.

Sedalia's at Club Dinner In Columbia

Miss Hazel Palmer Speaks on 'Dream Of the World'

Miss Hazel Palmer, president of the Missouri Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was the speaker at the twenty-second birthday banquet of the Columbia club Monday evening at the Daniel Boone hotel in that city.

Sixteen members from the Sedalia B. P. W. club attended. They were Miss Hazel Palmer, Miss Bertha Rose, president of the Sedalia club, L. Rose Liebrand, Miss Lois Fricke, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Mrs. Regina Franken, Miss Ella Hert, Miss Ruth Fults, Mrs. W. J. Menefee, Mrs. William Bond, Mrs. Mary Diltney, Miss Verona Neumeyer, Miss Frieda Mueller, Mrs. Erma Fajen, Miss Emilie Brunjes and Miss Charlot Snow, who was a guest of Miss Robie Shaeffer, formerly of Sedalia, now of Columbia.

Miss Polly Brummett, of Columbia, was toastmistress and presented the following program: Miss Helen St. George in a group of readings; vocal solos by Prof. H. B. Gould, professor of music at the University of Missouri, with Miss Elizabeth Taggart as accompanist, and group singing led by Prof. Gould.

Miss Palmer then introduced Miss Palmer, who chose for her topic, "The Dream of the World." "Everybody has their dreams," the speaker said. "The dreams vary because no two sets of human needs are quite the same. The economic desires and the reasons for their achievement may vary. There are certain fundamental requirements to assure success as far as one's own efforts are concerned."

Miss Palmer went on to say that women have not come this far to recede. They have not tasted the fullness of life to be satisfied with the dregs. Women of America have brought their lights out of the bushel. They now shine, the speaker said. "And I have faith that their lights will continue to shine with undiminished luster."

"Women—and all mankind have the right to dream. At present the dream of the world is peace. That may not be the dream of a few individuals whose wants are never satisfied and whose power is never sufficiently glorified, but beyond any doubt it is the hope and the dream of almost all humanity. If any person had the answer to how the peace of nations could be maintained that person would be heaven sent, indeed, the speaker said.

Peace Founded on Love

"Of course we know the idealism, the doctrine of peace. It is founded on love and we each earthly mortal to love his neighbor as himself there would be nothing but peace. We know, however, that since that practice does not exist among too many people the machinery of peace has to be set up, but it will take more than that to keep the world from war. The maintenance of peace will require vigilance of all. One can not be vigilant and at the same time indifferent to what goes on around her."

"The fact that women do not sit in the high places of our government and directly shape its policies," the speaker said, "should not keep them from being interested in the manner in which our government is run."

In closing Miss Palmer said "May the vision of our women lift out beyond our own backyard, beyond our office walls, beyond the security of our homes. May we think not of ourselves alone, but of that 'great circle of humanity.'"

A reception was held on the mezzanine floor at the conclusion of the meeting

To Locate In Chicago

Capt. Irby M. Bundling left Sunday for Chicago, Ill., where he has accepted a position as research biochemist with the Armour laboratories.

Mrs. Bundling and their son, Ted, who are residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Eisenstein, 900 West Fifth street, plan to join him soon.

Capt. Bundling returned from the Pacific theater of operations in January, after two years of service in the Hawaiian, Marshall, Gilbert, Ellice and Philippine Islands and Japan. Prior to entering service in July, 1943, he had been doing research work for the Office of Scientific Research and Development at the University of Missouri.

Father and Son are Shot

WARREN, O., March 26.—(P)—Albert Clark, 58, was in critical condition today, and his son Herschel, 32, was in a hospital with a bullet wound in his thigh, after they were shot early yesterday by two bandits who held up their restaurant here.

The elder Clark was shot through the liver. The Clarks moved here only a month ago from Jonesboro, Ark., to take over management of the restaurant.

The bandits escaped after the shooting, which took place beside the restaurant, the younger Clark being shot as he went to the aid of his wounded father. Five men, one in possession of a revolver of the same caliber as that used in the shooting, were arrested in an auto by Youngstown police soon after the holdup, and were being questioned today.

Health Center Bill Signed Into Law

JEFFERSON CITY, March 26.—(P)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly has signed a measure under which Missouri counties would be permitted to establish health centers. The counties would be allowed to issue bonds for the center and if approved, a tax of ten cents or less on each $100 assessed valuation of property in the county could be levied for the retirement of the bonds.

The measure was sponsored by Rep. Ira Hyde (R) of Trenton who died Feb. 23.

Gratitude

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif., March 26.—(P)—Mrs. Ruby Bigelow has an admirer on her hands and can't get rid of him.

She gave first aid to a sea lion that had its jaws gummed up with tar, then dumped it back in the ocean. The animal jumped right out again and followed her home. Every time she puts him back in the water the sea lion shows up a few minutes later at Mrs. Bigelow's home.

Births...

Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Diefenbach, 305 West Fourth street, at 5:39 p. m. Monday at the Bethwell hospital. The infant, who has been named Dale, weighed five pounds, three ounces. Mrs. Diefenbach is the former Miss Jane Laupheimer.

Daughter, born March 22 to Mr. and Mrs. James L. Adams at their home, 1323 East Fourth street. The baby weighed nine pounds and has been named Shirley Marie.

Mrs. Charles Ritchie

Mrs. Charles Ritchie, 53, died at her home northwest of Stover Sunday at 10 p. m. following a heart attack.

Surviving besides her husband, Charles Ritchie, are three sons: Howard, of the state of California, Gilbert, Kansas City, and Mancel, of the home.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon and interment will be in the Ritchie cemetery.

Dr. Talmadge McConnell

Dr. Talmadge McConnell for many years a practicing physician in Houston, died at his home in St. Louis Monday night. He had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage on Sunday, March 17.

Dr. McConnell was a physician in the city hospital in St. Louis, when stricken.

His wife is the former Miss Grace Gibson, who was also of Houston.

The body will be brought to the McLaughlin chapel tonight, and members of the family will arrive in Sedalia Wednesday morning.

Flowers For The Wedding

OBITUARIES

Clarence Edward Clopton

Clarence Edward "Pete" Clopton, 39, 1322 South Grand avenue, died early Monday evening at St. Mary's hospital in Kansas City where he had been a patient since February 1. He had been in ill health for several years due to a heart ailment.

Mr. Clopton, who had been bookkeeper at the Pacific cafe for a number of years, was born in Sedalia on January 10, 1907, son of Thomas A. and Maude Taylor Clopton. His mother died on February 23, 1945.

Surviving Mr. Clopton are his wife, the former Miss Violet Wolf, and a daughter, Mary Louise, his father, who resides at the Terry hotel, and a brother Melvin Clopton, of Mountain Home, Ark. He also is survived by the following aunts: Miss Edna Taylor and Mrs. H. A. Meyer, of 520 North Quincy avenue; Mrs. Betty Holcroft, Tenth Street and Montauk avenue, and Mrs. Joseph Dillard, 723 West Seventh street.

Mr. Clopton was a member of the First Christian church and Sedalia lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Members of the family who had been at his bedside returned to Sedalia late Monday night.

The body will be brought to the Gillespie funeral home this evening.

A & M to Meet North Carolina For Cage Title

Bob Kurland Winds Up College Career In Tonight's Game
By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—Seven-foot Bob Kurland, who developed from an awkward player four years ago into one of the game's most polished performers, winds up his college basketball career tonight as the Oklahoma Aggies battle North Carolina for the NCAA championship.
Principally because of Kurland, the nation's leading scorer at 620 points, the Aggies have been installed eight-point favorites over the Tarheels in this fitting climax to the first post-war campaign. Another sellout crowd of 18,400 is certain to pack Madison Square Garden.
The Cowboys, winner of 30 of 32 games and with most of last year's championship quintet back, seem confident about their chances of becoming the first team to win the national crown two years straight. Their current winning streak has reached 14.
"My boys are great competitors," explained Coach Hank Iba of the Stillwater, Okla. aggregation. "I look for a tremendous game with the winning team the one which will hit on its outside shots."
Kurland has improved 50 per cent in the last month. Iba went on. "Until then he was a very poor tipper-in of rebounds and lacked confidence in his spin shots. Now he has mastered both. Then, too, Weldon Kern's ankle is okay again. He hurt it against Arkansas on Feb. 15 and didn't play again until the Oklahoma game on March 13."

North Carolina, winner of 29 of 33 games, defeated New York University and Ohio State to win the eastern NCAA crown while the Aggies swept aside Baylor and California to take western honors at Kansas City. The Tarheels concede the Aggies are the logical favorite, but that's about all.
Horace "Bones" McKinney, six-foot six-inch center, has been assigned the task of trying to stop Kurland.
The game is scheduled to start around 9:15 p. m. (CST) after California and Ohio State clash in a preliminary to determine third and fourth place.

Western Golden Gloves Entries in the Lead

NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—Bob Foxworth, a 20-year-old Negro amateur light heavyweight with professional polish and a powerful punch, had the fight experts buzzing today over his impressive showing in the 19th annual inter-city Golden Gloves contests.
The Golden Gloves classic has produced its share of world's boxing kings including such as Joe Louis and Barney Ross, and the ringwise observers among the 19-216 customers who packed Madison Square Garden last night to see the westerners beat the Eastern team 10-6 are agreed that Foxworth is the boy most likely to succeed among the 1946 contestants.
Showing plenty of class as he stalked Robert Isler of New York around the ring for the first two rounds of their championship clash, the 175-pound East St. Louis, Ill., typist caught up with his eastern rival in the third frame and flattened him with a dynamic right to the chin at 1:10.
The west also came up with the only other knockout victor in the 16 bouts and produced the upset of the night.
Herschel Acton, a hard hitting Oklahoma City lightweight, stopped Marcelo Pacheco of Puerto Rico in 2:20 of the first round of the bout between titlists, while Eddie Dames, a lanky bantamweight upstart specialist from St. Louis, outpointed Adolfo Calderon, another Puerto Rican and the only defending champion in the tourney.

Meeker and Blassie in Main Event

Ronnie Etchison vs. Babe Zaharias in Semi-Final Tonight

WRESTLING SCHEDULE
Main Event
Jerry Meeker vs. Sailor Blassie
Columbus, Ohio vs. St. Louis, Mo.
2 falls out of 3—30-minute limit.
Semi-Final
Ronnie Etchison vs. Babe Zaharias
St. Joseph, Mo. vs. Pueblo, Colo.
2 falls out of 3—45-minute limit.
Special Event
Al Galento vs. Sammy Freeback
Orange, N. J. vs. Belton, Mo.
1 fall with a 30-minute limit.
Place: State Guard Armory.
Time: 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.

There will be plenty of action in tonight's main event of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling card. Sailor Blassie, St. Louis, has won his point of not having Bill Dusen in the ring to referee the match with Jerry Meeker of Columbus, Ohio. But he will not win a point in making a pick of the referee. At least that's the indication as the third man is to be named at the ringside tonight.
The two met in the semi-windup last week at which time Meeker won over Blassie due to a "fluke" decision of the referee. Blassie protested and tonight both men, no doubt, will resort to some decidedly "Texas" rules.

In the semi-windup tonight Ronnie Etchison, St. Joseph, will clash with Babe Zaharias of Pueblo, Colo. Zaharias isn't going to "mess around" with Etchison as he is considered one of the bad boys in the ring, and will take after Etchison in a hurry. The St. Joseph young man does not appear worried a whole lot.
Opening the show in the special event, Al Galento of Orange, N. J. matches with Sammy Freeback, Belton, Mo. and will grapple in a thirty minute one-fall match. Galento made his first appearance in the local ring last Tuesday night and his victory won him an opportunity to return this week.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, March 26—(AP)—The big task of the basketball rule maker, according to the consensus of a dozen or so coaches assembled here, is not to make any new rules for a while but to arrive at uniform interpretations of the old ones.
The act of shooting definition is just one of many things that puzzle the pilots who take their teams into various sectors.
Doc Carlson of Pitt; Elmer Ripley, who returns to Georgetown from Notre Dame next season; Harry Rabenhorst of Louisiana State and John Bunn former Stanford coach now at Springfield college, were among those who agreed that the thing to do was to gather officials from all sections, stage demonstrations and then by a give-and-take process, arrive at uniform interpretations.
"When I first went west, the officiating was bad," Bunn explained. "So we got the coaches and officials around a table at an early season game—before they had time to get mad about anything—and talked over the details. The improvement was remarkable."

Fine Food
The Cleveland Indians' Lou Boudreau, recognized as a champ for his size in the knife and fork league, took a flying start on the shrimp cocktails when Prexy Will Harridge of the American league tossed a party in Clearwater, Fla., the other day.
"On his fifth," Lou shouted to the boss: "Mr. Harridge, I'm taking out that $50 fine you handed me three years ago in shrimp tonight. Okay?"
Harridge beckoned a waiter and said: "Boy, bring Mr. Boudreau two more shrimp cocktails. They're a little small." So Lou manfully downed his sixth and seventh.

Sports Before Your Eyes
The National baseball congress has spent more than $10,000 preparing for its nationwide registration day for sandlot ball players next Saturday.
Contrary to reports hereabouts, Coach Ben Carnevale hasn't officially left the North Carolina U. basketball team. Ben has had offers from several Ivy league colleges, but as long as he's in the navy he can't say yes or no.
Barney Berlinger, the former decathlon champion is the No. 1 bait easter on the Pennsylvania Fish and Game association team.
The all-Ohio class "A" high school basketball team averaged six feet 1 1/2 inches in height. Attention college coaches who have been looking over the Indiana material. Four of the first five players were seniors, too.

Cleaning the Cuff
Joseph Morjoseph, who played with St. Joseph, Mo., and St. Joseph, Mich., is trying for an outfield spot with the Toledo Mud-hens. Which means no more Joseph.
North Carolina has just finished what it claims is the largest basketball tournament under one roof—126 teams playing playing at Winston-Salem, N. C.
Headline in Minneapolis Star-Journal: "Strunk, Bender impress Kolp with mound skill." Sounds like the best thing in that line since the celebrated kidnapping of Flint Rhem.

Capper's Weekly Writes Up Pettis Countian

A unique device used by E. C. Stevens on his farm near Sedalia in Pettis county, is featured in an article in the April issue of Capper's Farmer, entitled "Bath Tub for Hogs."
"Hogs at the E. C. Stevens farm," the story in the nationally circulated farm magazine points out, "have their own bathtub. It is of concrete and is attached to the side of a water tank. Stevens is figuring on a valve that will keep the wall-flo filled without fouling the tank if the water level runs low."

Bill Dickey's Legs Giving Him Trouble

By Gayle Talbot
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 25—(AP)—Bill Dickey's chances of catching a full quota of games for the Yankees this year, despite his 38 years and his long siege in the navy, do not appear quite so bright as they did up to a week ago. He is having difficulty getting his legs in shape.
That is about the last thing anyone would have picked to happen to the man many regard as the greatest catcher of them all. Before the war Dickey's long legs were one of the wonders of the game.
One of the big reasons for their excellence was the fact that Bill devoted a large part of his winters to bird hunting, his greatest love next to baseball. Tramping up and down the hills kept his legs toned up. He is learning now that the somewhat sedentary job he had in the navy did his pins no good.

After doing his first four-inning stint behind the plate the other day he reported that he was one large ache and pain from the waist down. He asked for a chance to work it out, however, and Manager Joseph V. McCarthy obliged by naming him to start yesterday's game with Cleveland here. Dickey then hit himself on the toe with a batted ball during the pre-game practice, forcing him to withdraw and that might prove an additional setback.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

W. U. Wiley, the accident insurance agent, had an experience this morning which, he says, never happened to him before during his sojourn of 20 years in Sedalia. While driving along Boonville street, in a light buggy, the wheels sunk in mud until the hubs of the front wheels were out of sight. In trying to get out of the sink-hole the whiplight was broken and the harness torn off of the horse. Mr. Wiley had to call for assistance to help him in extricating the horse and buggy, and with the aid of hawser ropes, pulled by a number of strong men, they were finally landed on terra firma.

Sarah Bernhardt played Camille in a tent at Dallas, Texas, last night to an audience of 8,000 people, who went wild with enthusiasm.

It is announced that the Missouri Pacific's new line from Crane to Springfield will be in operation by July 1. The Missouri Pacific already has invested in about 100 acres of land in and adjacent to Springfield, to build machine shops and locate terminals. The Goulds have invested $150,000 in depot and terminal sites in Green county.

Major Henry L. Sutton, of St. Louis, is visiting here with his son, Dr. F. L. Sutton and family.

The Smoke House Cigar company has leased the cigar privileges of the Antlers hotel, and has purchased the new fixtures and furniture just placed in the rotunda of the office.

Reports Check Lost
Mrs. Lela Jarnon, 415 Dal-Whi-Mo Court, reported to the police Monday evening her government check had been lost in the 200 block on West Main street. The check was not endorsed.

Anderson PTA
Has Election

The Parent-Teacher association of Anderson school met at the school Friday night, opening the business session with singing of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

After a report by the nominating committee, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Russell Lewis, president; Mrs. Ab Ball, vice president; Mrs. Isaac Snow, secretary; Mrs. J. T. Edmundson, treasurer. A parent education quiz was conducted by the president. Mrs. Edmundson reported that she had attended the council meeting and was elected vice president of the organization.

Mrs. Bopp, R. L. Wadleigh and Mrs. Jake Wissman were appointed as the refreshment committee.

Robbery of Service Station

The Lumas Gehrs service station at Stover was broken into some time Friday night. $35.00 in cash was taken besides numerous small articles including a battery.

Method To "Denature"
Plutonium

Atomic Energy
Thus Could Be Utilized For Industry Purpose

WASHINGTON, March 26 —(AP)—Scientists disclosed Monday that they know how to "denature" plutonium so that its atomic energy could be used only for industrial purposes and not for bombs.

The disclosure was made to the senate atomic energy committee in a scientific report presented by Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson. The report proposed an international licensing system under the United Nations commission for control of fissionable raw materials and of the manufacture of atomic power.

Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the bureau of standards and scientific advisor to the senators, commented that the "implication" was that the way would now be open for eventual development of atomic energy for peace time uses.

He explained to a reporter that although ways had been known by which atomic energy could be developed industrially, the chief problem which the new method of treating plutonium should solve would be that of "the traffic in plutonium rather than its engineering use."

For example, he said, if the power industry were enabled to produce atomic energy for in-

Should Report On Crop Insurance

Jas. A. Harvey, Chairman of the Pettis County AAA committee, announces that farmers holding Federal Crop Insurance policies on their 1946 wheat crop should not fail to report to the Pettis County AAA Office any loss apparent at this time before the field is put to another use. After an apparent loss is reported, the Pettis County Crop Insurance Adjuster will inspect the wheat crop to determine the extent of loss and make his report to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

Committee Named

Meanwhile President Truman announced the members of a nine-man civilian commission to evaluate the results of the proposed bomb tests at Bikini atoll.

The President picked Senators Hatch (D-NM) Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military committee and Rep. Andrews (R-NY) to serve with the following scientists:

1. Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, physics professor at the University of California and one of the early group who conceived the practical possibilities of the atomic bomb;
2. Dr. Karl Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology since 1930;
3. Bradley Dewey, the wartime rubber director and president of Dewey and Almy of Cambridge, Mass.;
4. William S. Newell, president of Bath Iron Works Corporation, Bath, Me.
5. Fred Searlis, Jr., a New York mining engineer and special assistant to James F. Byrnes, Secretary of State.

This appeared to indicate strongly that the tests would be held this summer despite contrary reports which followed last Friday's order for a six-week delay.

Acheson's talk of "denaturing" plutonium, the element now used in producing atomic energy, apparently exploded like a bomb in the senate's committee's closed session.

Some members, who said that they had never heard of it before pressed for an explanation which Acheson reportedly did not complete because he was handed a note calling him to the White House while he was testifying.

Youths In Jail
Escape Captured

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 26—(AP)—Two youths identified by the Missouri highway patrol as fugitives from the Lebanon, Mo., jail and the Kansas industrial home for boys at Topeka were captured on a highway east of Jefferson City late Monday.

Sgt. H. H. Schaperkotter said the boys, Cecil R. Sodders, 16, of Kansas City, Kas., and John R. Bagwell, 15, of Pittsburg, Kas., were spotted behind some bushes along a road and offered no resistance.

They dug out of the Lebanon jail last night, he said, with Charles McDaniels, 37, who was being held on a forgery charge. Sodders and Bagwell had been held at Lebanon for Kansas officers since last Thursday. No trace of McDaniels has been found.

Committees For
Teen Town Dance

A benefit dance for Teen Town was the main topic of discussion at the junior Teen Town board meeting held Monday night at Teen Town with "Eddie" Rogers, president, presiding.

Committees were appointed by the board to plan the dance which will be held May 3, at Convention hall.

Music: Joseph C. Potts, John Hurley, and Richard Dean.

Special events: Calvin Rodgers, Frank Potts and William Labus.

Business: Janet Quinn, Elaine Warren, Mary Cooney, Joan Schott and Joanne Reid.

Committee reports concerning activities since the last meeting were given.

Road Election Is Approved By Court

The Pettis county court Monday approved the road election for Bryson special road district No. 38 for a levy of 25c (in excess) for maintenance.

The court issued a 3.2 beer license to Joseph C. Higgins of Houstonia, the license to expire September 25, 1946.

Egyptian Men
Get Rid of Wives Easily

Not Such Simple
Problem Though
For the Women

By Hal Boyle

CAIRO, March 26—(AP)—Divorce is easy for men in Egypt. They just call in the wife, say "Go" to her three times and they are free men again.

But for the ladies it is no such simple matter.

"Here a woman not only can't say 'Go,' one girl told me. 'She can't even say 'Come.'"

For getting married to a man of her choice is of much more concern to the average educated young Egyptian girl than how she will dispose of him later, if she decides to change her mind.

Meeting the young man himself is the biggest problem in this old land where courtship has many more barriers in its path than marriage. This is because the old Moslem families have lifted some strict rules of feminine seclusion, but not yet by any means allow their daughters the freedom girls have in western countries.

Girls sit in co-educational classes with men in the universities, but they can't meet them outside. At least theoretically they can't. But of course love laughs at locksmiths in Egypt as well as in Europe and America.

Different From Mothers

"We are totally different from our mothers," said one young university graduate who precipitated a crisis in her own family by taking an editorial post in a magazine where men were also employed. "We are different, but we have a long way to go. My own mother saw no man before or after marriage for years, except her brothers and her married uncles."

"Men servants in her household didn't see her. She didn't go to school. She was taught in her own house by woman teachers. Now she does go out and she finally allowed me to go to school and later to go to work.

"But we can't dance or go out on a date with strangers. And all men are considered strangers to us except our brothers and

Elopement Unknown

Some Egyptian mothers, seeking to snare a desirable young man for a son-in-law, artfully tell his mother: "We don't even have a telephone in our house."

That proves their daughters are "nice" and girls who don't throw themselves at every man.

Elopement is practically unknown here. A few upper class fathers would force their daughters into marriage against their will, but virtually no girl would marry against her parent's wishes. It all works out some sort of family compromise, but a remarkable number of young men seem to get caught.

The girls themselves feel that they have been born in an unhappy time for young love, when the old stern ways are bending under the impact of modernity

SUIT IS FILED
TO QUIET TITLE

A suit to quiet title was filed by James P. Dysart against Charles Rector et al Monday in the Pettis county circuit court, concerning land in Pettis county which originally had been included in a patent granted by the U. S. government in 1854.

The defendant listing reads as follows: "Charles Rector, Reven H. Simons, William Dillard, William P. Dillard, Nancy Dillard, Isaac Cannine, Lavenia Howe, Lavina F. Howe, Louvinia F. Howe, Lavenia F. Howe and the unknown consorts, heirs, devisees, donees, alieness and immediate, mesne and remote voluntary and involuntary granters of Charles Rector, Reven H. Simons and of William Dillard and of William P. Dillard and of Nancy Dillard and of Isaac Cannine and of Lavina F. Howe and of Louvinia F. Howe and Lavenia F. Howe."
